

BSc (Hons) Policing | MA Policing and Criminal Justice | MSc (Thesis only) in Policing

CALLING ALL OFFICERS AND POLICE STAFF looking to gain an academic qualification while working. We are seeking applications for the 2015-16 intakes on the below programmes within the School of Law, Criminal Justice and Computing at Canterbury Christ Church University.

Our three-year part-time BSc (Hons) Policing programme has been designed specifically with serving officers and police staff in mind, and recognises operational and support experience as a core part of learning. We aim to build on this invaluable experience and provide a detailed insight into the research and theory behind modern policing practice. The application deadline is Monday 20th July 2015

The MA Policing and Criminal Justice programme runs in Canterbury and London. It explores both the theoretical foundations of policing and criminal justice and the application of this knowledge to contemporary issues of crime, social control and justice. The application deadline is Friday 3rd July 2014.

The MSc by research in Policing is a new part time programme which offers a postgraduate qualification awarded on the final thesis, based on an empirical research study of a chosen area of policing. There will be an expectation to attend some sessions in London and Canterbury. The application deadline is TBA.

If you chose to study on any one of these programmes you will be given a timetable in advance to allow you to plan your work and academic commitments throughout the year. For more information and downloadable application forms for all programmes please visit:
